

#NewFaces FAQ

What should the video be about?

Your video should demonstrate why you deserve a spot on the ISC 2023 program and what you hope to share from the podium. These videos will be shared on social media, so they should be fun and engaging.

How long should the video be?

Your video must be less than 1 minute to be accepted.

Where do I submit the video?

Submit your video to newfaces@quintbook.com.

What do I get for submitting a video?

If your video meets our specifications and is approved by the ISC Committee, you are entitled to a 15% rebate on your meeting registration just for entering our #NewFaces Video Challenge.

Who will see the video?

The ISC Committee will review your video prior to release on social media to ensure it is appropriate, and then Quintessence will share it on social media via Facebook and Instagram.

What are the technical specifications for the video?

The video must be submitted as an .mp4 file, and it must be under 1 minute. Please note that any videos over 1 minute will not be accepted.

When is the deadline?

The deadline for video submission is January 1, 2023.

Who decides the winners?

The ISC Committee (including co-chairs Irena Sailer and Vincent Fehmer) will decide the winners of the #NewFaces Video Challenge.

How many winners will there be?

We have three slots reserved in the program for the winners of the #NewFaces Video Challenge, so the ISC Committee will select three winners.

When will the winners be notified?

The winners will be notified no later than March 1, 2023.

What do the winners receive?

Each winner will receive a 15-minute slot in the main session, a complimentary 2-night hotel stay at the Town and Country San Diego, and free registration to the meeting.

What's the overall process?

The overall process works like this: Videos are submitted to newfaces@quintbook.com, then they're reviewed by the ISC Committee before being released and shared on social media. The winners will then be selected by the ISC Committee and notified of their time slot in the program no later than March 1, 2023.
